

CONSTRUCTION YOUTH TRUST VOLUNTEER FORM

For young people, beginning their career in construction, visiting live construction sites or seeing real-life workplaces allows them to develop key industry knowledge and gives valuable experience.

Demonstrating your commitment to Social Value can improve the economic, social and environmental wellbeing of a region, whilst giving your company a competitive advantage in future project procurement. By completing the form below, you and your company will have a chance to not only give back to the community, but provide much needed volunteering time to Construction Youth Trust.

Construction Youth Trust have a strategic focus on working with young people in London. If you are only able to provide opportunities outside of London, please visit CITB Ambassadors here who will be able to support your activities.
